W Hey, this is interesting, Phil. Have you read this article about blogs?

- W (11) It's all about how they're revolutionizing news reporting and journalism. How the news business has been turned on its head. That kind of thing.
- M Turned on its head? In what way?
- W (12) Well, it talks about how blogs have gone from being just on-line diaries or journals to being almost like small-scale private news agencies. It all started during the war in Iraq, when that guy—the Baghdad Blogger—started telling people what was going on around him. You know, because he was actually there, and wasn't working for a newspaper or TV company, he was free to tell people the realities of life in Baghdad at the time.
- M Meaning people like me weren't doing that ourselves?
- W (13) Well, you know, with professional journalists there's always the feeling that they're not always telling you the full story...that they present a story in such a way as to support the views of their employers.
- (14) Plus, I suppose this guy didn't have to worry about making everything sound really dramatic and exciting because he wasn't actually trying to sell his stories. He could just tell the truth, in other words.
- M Hmm...so that's what you mean by turning the business on its head?
- W Kind of, yes! Loads of people started copying the Baghdad Blogger and journalists don't like it very much. I guess they're worried that because blogs are basically free to read, people will be less prepared to pay for newspapers. So their jobs will disappear. After all, why would you want to spend money on newspaper like yours when you can read the opinions of people who were actually there, on the scene as it were?
- M Actually, that's a good question. (15) But to be honest, I think I'd rather read something written by a trained and experienced journalist, rather than a few lines of nonsense tapped out by someone who thinks they're the next Pulitzer Prize winner!

Dictation

Good morning, everyone. I'd like to welcome you all to Westley University Library. This is a 20-minute tour around the library to show you all the facilities and all you will need to know to start off your life here as a student at the University. (21) What I'll start by doing is telling you about what you need to do to join the library. Then I'll briefly tell you about our facilities and guide you quickly round and show you everything.

So to join the library you need to go to the reception between the hours of 9am and 5pm. After that the reception closes, though all the other facilities will stay open until 10pm. (22) At the reception they'll give you an application form. (23) After you fill that in, you'll have to give us the fee of 5 pounds, which you have to give us every year that you're a member of the library. We will also need to see your University Card to confirm that you're a student of the University and finally we'll need 2 passport photos—one for our records and the other for your library card. You will need to do all this as soon as possible so you'll be able to use the facilities at once. I'm sure your workload will begin to build up soon!

Now, let me tell you a bit about the facilities. (24) The library opens daily from 8am to 10pm though, as I told you earlier, the reception operates only between the hours of 9am and 5pm, though this is extended to 6:30pm on Fridays to give students more time to organise their book requirements for the weekend. The reception is closed on Sundays.

Undergraduate students are permitted to take out 4 books at a time and each book may be borrowed for a period of two weeks. Postgraduates may borrow 6 books at a time. (25) Borrowing time can be extended by a period of one week per book if the student comes into the library in person with the book in question so it can be restamped. We do not renew book borrowing over the phone. If you are late in returning any book, you will be charged a fine of 2 pounds for every week that you are late. You won't be able to take out any other books until this fine is paid. This is not a method of earning money for the library but merely what we have to do to ensure that all students have access to all the books that they will need.

Advertisements are Needed

In today's society, advertisements can be seen on TVs, Pads and computers. As far as I am concerned, advantages of advertising outweigh disadvantages for customers.

First of all, it's inevitable to refuse any advertising in the modern society. In the information age, everyone is closely connected and combined with information. People's exposure to outside world is limited. Advertising is one of the important channels for people to be involved in. Through advertising, people are linked to the relevant information they want to obtain and know the existence of a certain object or product, which benefits people's life.

Secondly, with the development of modern technology and the improvement of people's requirements for advertising, advertisements not only promote a certain product information, but also bring pleasant visual feelings to customers. From this point of view, who can refuse advertisements with combination of practical and aesthetic value?

Finally, some people may hold the view that advertising is to stimulate, or even mislead customers to purchase. However, customers should have a correct understanding of their own needs and have a reasonable judgment on the outside information! In a word, advertising does more good than harm to customers.

1. W What do you fancy doing for food today? I feel like eating out for a change.

M I'm not sure if we can afford it. What about having a picnic somewhere?

W Yeah, that'd be nice. But I doubt whether the rain will hold off all afternoon. The forecast for later wasn't too good.

M Oh, come on, let's risk it. We'll just have to make sure we take our umbrellas, just in case.

Conversation One

W (6) So William, you mentioned treasure diving. How did you find out about this?

M (6) Oh, well, I had a friend who used to work for the government. He was diving just for pleasure at that time. But then he met, I think while on a diving excursion. (7) He met another guy who was into treasure diving, and they formed a company, and they've actually become, I guess, professional treasure divers.

W So what did they do then?

M I think I mentioned the sunken treasure around the trip of Africa, because of the ancient sea route. But I think my friends have now moved off to other parts of the world that are also known for sunken treasure spots. I think one of the areas is close to Florida in the United States, because there used to be an ancient shipping route between Europe and the United States, and yeah, (8) they go diving for treasure around that area.

W There must be a lot of mysteries under the sea.

M I think so too, (9) and I guess it involves a lot of dispute, possibly because it's...it can become a political issue in some ways, if the treasure is found. And who does it belong to? And the countries that originally sent the money or the gold or the treasure or whatever? And the country that it's found in now, and also by the guys that find it? Is it finders who are keepers, or is it a matter of dividing up the discovery? Of course, I think there's a lot of historical value involved with the find as well. So yeah, I think it's an interesting, fascinating kind of adventure story.

W It would be quite an adventurous hobby to have.

M I think so too. Yeah, I kind of envy his lifestyle. He seems to go from one grand yacht in one very nice area to the next treasure area. (10) And yeah, that's what he does for a living.

Conversation Two

M (11) That was a great exhibition.

W Yeah, we were in there for ages. I normally get tired after about half an hour or so. (11) Some of the photos are really beautiful, weren't they?

M It was so good. I'd go again, yeah. But you know what impressed me most? (12) It wasn't the individual pictures so much as the fact that they seem to refer to each other. That they dealt with similar themes. Like the one of the man riding the camel. Like it's transport, you know? Whereas the picture of the woman on the horse.

W That's right. Yeah, show jumping. She's using the animal for entertainment for sport.

M Yeah, for sport. Exactly. That's what the exhibition is doing. (12) Bringing out the differences between cultures and showing how they organise their lives in very different ways.

W Oh, no, dear. I don't see it that way at all. In fact, I think it's the complete opposite. I agree that the horse and camel pictures emphasise some cultural differences. (13) But I think the exhibition is talking about what is similar between cultures rather than what is different. I mean, what about those cowboys line dancing and the photos of that African tribe? Weren't you struck by the similarities rather than the differences? It was almost as if you could change the clothing and you would be looking at the same picture. They're there so we can see how similar cultures are.

M But what about the weddings, for example?

W With the wedding photos, I think it's more or less the same thing. Different clothes. Even clothes, you know? These days we all wear stuff from other cultures. A few changes to the ceremonies, but it's still a wedding. You know, to death do us part stuff. (14) It makes me think of the connections not only between individuals in a society, but also between peoples and cultures.

M I don't know. With the photos of the dancing, maybe, yeah. But the wedding photos? They do the opposite for me. Maybe it's because I'm Indian, but they just reminded me that we have arranged marriages that our parents are very much involved in our choice of wife or husband. That's very different from Western Christian culture.

W Yeah, I understand that being Indian, maybe it makes you think more about the differences. But everything is so international these days. I mean, look at a typical English pub menu and the variety of ethnic dishes that you can order. Indian, Thai, Italian, of course, as well as typical traditional English food.

M Of course, but...well, I take your point, but I'm not so sure. (15) I suppose I just feel that some differences between cultures are impossible to reconcile. I mean, to me the wedding ceremonies are not just superficially different.

W Well, let's agree to differ before one of us kills the other. Maybe we can go back again, see if we change our minds. Is the exhibition on for much longer?

M No, come on, please!

Whales, like all mammals, need air and come to the surface to breathe through a blowhole. Good morning, everyone, and welcome to your first morning here at the Solaris Hotel and Holiday Village. This little orientation talk this morning will just give you an idea of what to find and expect around the grounds. Let's begin by looking at meals. We have three different restaurants and you are at liberty to eat at any of them. They are the Harvest Restaurant, the Dean Restaurant and the Mekong Restaurant. Let's begin with breakfast. (21) Breakfast is only served in the Harvest Restaurant. The other two restaurants are only open for lunch and dinner. Breakfast is served between 6:30am and 9:30am seven days a week. There are English, American and Continental style breakfasts on offer. For lunch and dinner, all the restaurants have the same opening hours to make things easier for you. Lunch is served from 12 o'clock noon to 2:30pm and (22) dinner is served from 7pm to 10:30pm. (23) The menus are the same for lunch and dinner, but you can look at the blackboards displayed in the restaurants for any specials that they are serving for any particular meal. The Dean specialises in fish and seafood, and the Mekong offers you a selection of dishes from the Far East, not just from Vietnam as the name suggests, but Chinese, Thai, Malay and others. You don't have to pay in any of the restaurants unless an extra supplement is needed for some of the specials. All soft drinks are also free, though we charge for alcoholic drinks. You can choose to pay any bill that you may incur at the end of the meal itself, or you can put it on your main bill which you can pay when you leave at the end of your holiday. (24) There is also a bar menu in the main bar, which serves pretty good pub food, and if you have any late night munchies, there is a take-away open until 2:30am which sells fast food. 66. 自古以来,祈望健康长寿就是重阳节永恒的主题。这个节日的传统习俗历经许多世纪的发展和变化,承载着中国文化的精髓和人们对于美好生活的愿望。这一中国传统节日是阴历九月初九。之所以在这一天庆祝是因为数字“九”的发音与汉语中的“久”相同,也寓意长寿。因此,古人认为九月九是个吉祥的日子,现在它还成了中国的老人节。人们会在这一天佩戴茱萸、吃重阳糕、饮菊花酒。除了食用健康营养的食物,适当的运动也是长寿的一项秘诀。因此,爬山登高也成为重阳节的一项习俗。

句式分析

- 第二句为翻译难点。主句使用 have been passed down 这一被动语态,翻译成汉语要符合汉语表达,可译为“历经……”。carrying 是现在分词作状语。best wishes 指的是“美好的愿望”。
- 第四句为翻译难点。because 引导原因状语从句,which 引导非限制性定语从句。数字“九”和“long time”所指的“久”在翻译时需要对应。
- 倒数第二句为翻译难点。in addition to 后面的中心词是 diet 这个名词,翻译成汉语的时候,变为“食用……的食物”。

67. Reading is a practice that has been encouraged ever since we were kids. In our childhood, we would spend a lot of time watching cartoons on TV or playing outside, but just wouldn't want to read. Those children who did read a lot were called "bookworms". But as we grew up, we realized the habit of reading is a train to catch as soon as we can! Many of us began to regret and wish that this habit had always been a part of our lives.

句式分析

1. 第二句为翻译难点。这句翻译时使用过去将来时,使用 but 进行并列。“小时候”可译为 in our childhood,在句子中作状语。

2. 第四句为翻译难点。这里的“列车”可进行直译,“赶列车”对应英语中的 catch the train。“意识到”翻译成 realize,后面使用宾语从句。

68. 天壤之别。

解析 题干要求写出画线短语的中文意思。根据所给句子内容可知,画线部分说的是伦敦和新加坡这两个城市的差别,通过 different 这个词可知,这两个城市是不同的。不同的程度就相当于粉笔和奶酪之间的不同。也就是说截然不同,天壤之别。答案为天壤之别。

69. In the dictionary.

解析 题干问世界上哪个地方下午比早晨早。在英语字典中,字母 a 在 m 前面,因此 afternoon 在 morning 前面。答案为 in the dictionary。

70. 536.

解析 题干要求找规律,写出问号处的数字。通过观察,数字呈递减规律,且前一个数字减去 101 得到后面一个数字。因此,答案为 536。

71. Split second timing.

解析 题干问你解出下面这道题吗?通过观察,第一个是 TIMING,后面是 TIM,再后面是 ING,因此可以说第二个 TIMING 被分成两个部分了,即 split second timing。

72. B

解析 题干问的是哪个代码与问号处给出的模式匹配?通过观察第一个图和第三个图可知 S 代表 4 条边;通过第二个图和第五个图可知, T 代表 3 个边。每一组第二个字母代表边的数量,因此第四个图中, R 就代表 5 条边,由此得到问号处第二个字母是 R。第一个字母代表的是颜色。其中,第一个图和第五个图第一个字母是 L,代表白色。第二个图和第四个图,第一个字母是 N,代表黑色。问号处网格状和第三个图一样,因此得到问号处字母组合的第一个字母是 M。因此,答案为 B。

73. effective→effectiveness

解析 该句的意思是“为了获得许可证,疫苗必须通过严格的安全检查,并且必须证明其具有一定程度的有效性”。此处介词 of 之后应该用名词。因此把 effective 改为 effectiveness。

74. include→including

解析 该句的意思是“疫苗必须满足各种专家的要求,包括公共卫生、免疫学和统计领域的专家”。此处 include 作伴随状语,不能使用动词原形,应该使用其介词形式。因此需将 include 改为 including。

75. are

解析 该句的意思是“例如,当制药公司和公共卫生专家的研究结果存在冲突时,就会出现伦理问题”。arise 本身就是动词,需要去掉前面的 are。因此需将 are 去掉。

76. finding→findings

解析 该句的意思同上。finding 意思是“发现”,为可数名词。因此需将 finding 改为 findings。

77. its→their

解析 该句的意思是“特别是制药公司,如果他们的疫苗在一个国家或世界范围内被采用,就会获得巨额利润”。Pharmaceutical companies 作为句子主语,是名词复数形式,后面应该使用 their 指代。因此需将 its 改为 their。

78. act→action

解析 该句的意思是“另一方面,一些团体,特别是政府机构,可能受到政治压力的驱使,采取行动保护人口免受尚未被认为安全的疫苗的侵害”,take action to do sth. 表示“采取行动做某事”,为固定用法。因此,需将 act 改为 action。

79. safety→safe

解析 该句的意思同上。句子为主系表结构,使用形容词作表语。需要将 safety 改为 safe。

80. in

解析 该句的意思是“在决定谁不接种疫苗时,存在一个道德困境”。句子中 when 引导时间状语从句,后面动词直接使用现在分词形式,前面省略了主语和 be 动词。因此需将 in 去掉。

81. dead→deadly

解析 该句的意思是“为了说明这一点,想象一个场景,一场致命的流行病已经开始,但我们认为已经找到了疫苗。”。dead 作为形容词,表示“失去生命的”。而这里指的是“致命的流行病”,使用 deadly。因此需将 dead 改为 deadly。

82. has / found→been

解析 该句的意思同上。“疫苗”和“找到”之间为被动关系,因此需添加 been。

Report on the Growth of Internet Users in China

The chart below illustrates the population and the number of Internet users from 1997 to 2022 in China.

According to the line chart, in October 1997, the population of China exceeded 1.2 billion and the number of Internet users was 620,000. By June 2005, there were 100 million Internet users. By 2008, the number of Internet users ranked first in the world with 253 million. This number has continued to grow rapidly since then, reaching 1 billion in 2021 and 1.05 billion in 2022. While in 2022, China's population was about 1.4 billion.

I believe that the number of Internet users increased dramatically is closely related to the popularity of smartphones. Smartphones emerged in China in 2007. Today, Internet users use the Internet through mobile phones, tablets, watches and other devices, but not just limited to traditional computers.

Should Household Skills be Made Compulsory at Schools?

Starting with last fall semester, the labor course has become a compulsory course in primary and middle schools. I gather that it is very critical.

First, children who only write homework lack the essential life skills and basic common sense. Many children cannot balance their body well due to physical labor deficiency.

Second, the combination of study and housework benefits health. The setting of labor classes is conducive to freeing children from schoolwork, making them experience life and foster their strength of will.

However, it should be noted that labor education needs the joint efforts of schools, families and society. The current labor course offered by the school throws a sprat to catch a whale. With some simple introduction and basic education, students can be better improved through later practice and further growth.

All in all, setting the labor course as an independent course for primary and secondary schools reflects the value orientation of the labor skills and the whole society attaches importance to primary and middle school students. Consequently, students are improved in the accumulation of life knowledge, which cultivates their practical ability.
